

A TREATY OF MUTUAL RECOGNITION.

Between _____ and The Incorporeal Principality of the Circle of Belmoor
At _____, Place.

Be it known heretofore that the Parties and Signatories to this Treaty,

Having established their respective realms and principalities in accordance with the customs of nationhood and the dictates of the Montevideo Convention;

Recognising the value of fostering peace and friendship between nations, especially so between those whose stature remains predominantly unrecognized by the larger nations of the world;

Conscious of the individual sovereignty and heritage of their respective nations and peoples;

Do by establishing this TREATY OF MUTUAL RECOGNITION agree as follows:

- I. Each Party shall, by their words, policies, and actions, respect and honor the independence and sovereignty of the mutual Parties to this treaty. Parties shall formally maintain the sovereignty and independence of both states, in perpetuity, until the disestablishment of one or all Parties.
- II. The sovereignty and independence of each Party shall not be infringed by word, policy, or action. No action shall be undertaken to prepare war or to otherwise disturb the peaceful relations between Parties to this treaty.
- III. Parties are encouraged to engage in trade, economic cooperation, and cultural exchange as possible and beneficial. Citizens of each Party may engage in free travel through the national borders of the Parties.
- IV. As possible and beneficial, Parties will engage in formal diplomacy through meetings of Heads of State, exchange of ambassadors, and cultural exchange.
- V. As enabled by the policies and laws of each nation, Parties shall permit plural citizenship between nations; unless prohibited by a nation's dictates.

To this Treaty we set our hand and seal, this ____ day of _____ in the year ____ of the Common Era.

Signatories
